Pastor's Pen

I pray that, according to the riches of his glory, he may grant that you may be strengthened in your inner being with power through his Spirit, and that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith, as you are being rooted and grounded in love. I pray that you may have the power to comprehend, with all the saints, what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, so that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.

- Ephesians 3:15-19

Ordinary time is upon us, and summer has begun!

School is out, or nearly so. Pentecost is past and all of the planning, fasting and celebrating that happens between Advent and the end of Easter is through.

A long stretch of seemingly unordered time lies before us.

The season after Pentecost is both the longest and last season in the liturgical year and is the second of the two seasons known as Ordinary Time.

The liturgical color for Ordinary Time is green. This is to represent the time of growth and expansion of the Church following the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus. Green is a very natural color and is often a symbol for growth and new life.

The word ordinary here has two meanings. First, it connects to the word ordinal, which has to do with re-marking out the weeks between the high seasons of the church year, such as Easter and Advent. The Sunday lectionary texts throughout Ordinary Time serve as a more prominent guides for our week-by-week devotional growth than the Lectionary does in the focused seasons of Advent, Christmas, Epiphany, Lent and Easter.

The second meaning of ordinary relates to the contrast between the ordinary flavor of this season with the extraordinary life of the other seasons in the church year—seasons that are pinned to the lived experience of Jesus coming into and living through his time on earth before his return to heaven. Here in Ordinary Time, the life of Christ is lived through us, the church, as we give faithful attention to our formation, devotion, ministry, and mission on a daily basis.

This is a season for learning about our faith as we try our best to follow Jesus with the guidance of the Holy Spirit in the ways of justice, peace, and loving service. It is a season of self-reflection and examination:

- How can I keep focused on God in the ordinary times of my life?
- What opportunities present themselves to me where I can attend to my spiritual growth?
- How is Christ being formed in me? How might others see the life of Christ living in and through me?

As with all seasons in the liturgical year, Ordinary Time is an opportunity to deepen our relationship with Jesus, grow spiritually, and participate in the life of the Church. Here are a few suggestions for ways we might make the most of this liturgical season.

- Start each day by thanking God for five ordinary things or go around the table at dinner and invite your family members to share things they are grateful for.
- Spend time praying and worshipping God in nature.
- Take a look at your daily routines and determine if there are old habits you need to break or new habits you want to start.
- Write a letter of encouragement to someone else in the faith.
- Volunteer to serve at church or in our community.

I'm excited to enter this second half of the church year and see the green Sundays stretching out before us. Remember, my first Sunday as your pastor was the first Sunday in Advent. For the first six months of my time as your pastor we've been celebrating and focusing on the high and holy days of the Christian liturgical year. I'm eager to enter into a new season in the life of Elim and Balsam as we journey together through this upcoming season of ordering our individual and church lives around the promise of growth in Christ.

Don't let this be just another "Ordinary" Time—do something intentional to make it extraordinary.

Blessings,

Pastor Laurie

Financially Speaking

Thank you again for your continued financial support of Balsam Lutheran and our ministry. We remain financially healthy despite the challenges of this past year. As of May 25, our General Fund balance is $74,849.06 and our In/Out Account balance is $10,918.67. Monthly expenses have been paid except for payroll and there is one more Sunday offering to be entered. Remember, that the in/out accounts hold money given for a specific project or program until it is needed or remitted. We do not access those accounts for our monthly expenses. Unfortunately, our offerings usually drop off in the summer months as many of us are traveling and/or spending time with family and friends. However, our expenses do not drop off at the same rate. I encourage you to mail in your usual offering if you will be gone. You can also drop off your offering during church office hours on Wednesday afternoons. Your ongoing support of our church and our work is essential.

In Christ, Gail Peterson, Treasurer
